The House of Blood and Tears-Lenore Eidse 2017-02-07 She gazed at the majestic stone building from a distance; with the sun reflecting in the tall gabled windows, it was lovely enough to be a little palace. But appearance is deceiving; inside it was a chamber of evil. In 1939, Hitlers invasion of Holland crashed like a thunderbolt upon the unsuspecting Dutch people. The dreaded word Occupation ruled their existence, but this family of three chose to defend the Motherland. Hillie worked as a double agent; shy, twelve year old Anje was a courier, and Jan became a collaborator. Secrets and lies, the concealment of Jews, Allied pilots in hiding, all were considered acts of treason which could condemn them in this notorious House of Blood and Tears. The consequence of their involvement was costly in Hitlers Holocaust. A vivid history of World War II in the Netherlands, this is an amazing account of great courage and daring, with a surprise conclusion.

The Reckoning-Carsten Stroud 2015-08-18 The astonishing final installment in the page-turning trilogy that Stephen King calls "an authentic work of American genius." Niceville has an almost unearthly beauty when the sun tops the ancient nearby mountain called Tallulah's Wall and bathes it in soft Southern light. This "Nothing" has long bent time and the desires of a chosen few to her shadowy ends. But now a buzzing emerges in the heads of some perfectly normal folks. Nothing isn't finished.
